

Chocolate Popcorn

In these days when we are being conservative with both sugar and cocoa, try this Christmas sweet instead of fudge. Boil together $\frac{1}{3}$ cup rich milk, 1 cup sugar, 1 teaspoon vanilla and 2 level tablespoons cocoa. When very thick, pour it over 3 quarts popped corn and stir until the corn is well coated with the chocolate mixture.

This is nice, too, to use instead of crushed paper to pack around a cake or the cookies you're sending the soldiers in nearby camps.
